

Rutgers University-Newark COMMUNITY WRITING CENTER Spring and Summer 2017 Workshops

Workshops will provide hands-on skills in writing for professional purposes, personal expression, academics, and civic engagement

Last Saturday of each month, 11:00am – 1:00pm

Refreshments will be served
No registration required.

Newark Public Library

Fourth Floor Auditorium
5 Washington Street
Newark, NJ 07102
973-733-7784

Writing Through Trauma

Saturday, April 29, 2017

Focus on writing as a process for coping with the trauma of grief and loss.

Memoir Writing

~~Saturday, May 27, 2017~~ Rescheduled for Saturday, June 10, 2017

Learn how to get your unique story on the page.

Finding Your Voice in the Community

Saturday, June 24, 2017

Be an active member of your community through clear and convincing writing.

Writing Short Fiction

Saturday, July 29, 2017

Are you a future novelist but don't know where to start?

Learn the basics of fiction and leave with a short story.

Establishing a Social Media Presence

Saturday, August 26, 2017

Like it or not, social media is our new means of communication.

Learn the language of social media posting.

Writing a Cover Letter/Resume

Saturday, September 30, 2017

Get the job you want through a top-notch resume and cover letter.

For more information

Visit www.ncas.rutgers.edu/communitywritingcenter

Contact: Marne Benson, Writing Center Manager at 973-353-5849, marneb@rutgers.edu