Restrictions on Access

Access Restrictions

No public access to oversized box 3 due to fragility of materials.

Photocopying of materials is limited and no materials may be photocopied without permission from library staff.

Use Restrictions

Researchers wishing to publish, reproduce, or reprint materials from this collection must obtain permission.

Processing Notes:

Some material was received in research files, other material was loose. Loose material was sorted and categories created as needed, research files were kept mostly in order, but rearranged as needed for ease of use. Several loose categories already existed (education, politics/government, music, churches) and these were used as a basis for 5 series of mixed materials and subject files, adding a miscellaneous series. These series were split into biographical and subject files (except Series 5 due to small size), with miscellaneous biographical material added to the last series. Glossy photographs and oversized materials were separated from all files and sorted by subject in alphabetical files in series 7 and 8. The 1995 James Baxter Terrace Journal was added from the CFCNJIC Collection, since many other issues of the journal were part of this collection, and the journal had little historical information.

An additional donation was made in 2018 including many more periodicals from Tiny Prince, which were moved to his collection MG Prince, more issues of the Newark Herald News, research files, and research binders, as well as some misc. material. It was interfiled, except for jazz research files which were added to a new box.

The jazz research consisted of several separated files as well as three alphabetical binders of notes/material by biographical name or place name. Material was removed from binder and placed in folders kept in order. Some unattached material at the start of the first binder was given its own folder. So, for example box 17, folder 5, contains the parts of the N-Z binder including Q-Sm and therefore would include such figures as Willie "The Lion" Smith.

The second donation also included almost 60 cassette tapes of jazz research interviews, which were made into Series 9 and marked as staff access only due fragility. We hope to digitize these tapes in the near future.

Lastly the second donation included CDs which were separated to the audio collection and periodicals, separated to the periodical collection.

Upon second processing two documents "Order of the Anvil" and "Masonic Bethany Lodge 31", and "Biographical Sketches Posthumous Recognition" were missing. These were photocopied documents, not original and are available at digital.npl.org.

Biographical Note

Barbara J. Kukla was born in 1940 and grew up in North Arlington, New Jersey. Her interest in journalism began when she was 12 years old and started writing for The Viking Saga, the student newspaper paper at North Arlington High School, where she graduated in 1958. During her senior year, she was the paper's editor-in-chief.

After graduating Bloomfield College in 1963, she worked for the Bloomfield Independent Press and The Herald-News of Passaic before moving to The-Star Ledger, where she spent nearly 37 years, mostly as editor of the popular Newark This Week section. She also was the paper's Sunday city editor for seven years.

Early in her career, she interviewed Viola Wells, a famous Newark singer known as Miss Rhapsody who introduced her to many people in the Newark community, especially its jazz artists. Kukla's first book, Swing City: Newark Nightlife 1925-1950, published in 1990 by Temple University Press, is dedicated to Miss Rhapsody. Reissued as a paperback by Rutgers University Press in 2002, it is considered the authoritative work on the Newark jazz scene.

Since then, Kukla has written many more books and six calendars about Newark. They include: Defying the Odds: Triumphant Black Women of Newark; Sounds of Music: The Dolores Collins Benjamin Story; Newark Inside My Soul: A 50-Year Memoir and America's Music: Jazz In Newark, Newark Women: From Suffragettes to the Statehouse, and City of Champions.

As a charter member of the Newark Public Schools Historic Preservation Committee, she also wrote the Newark Public Schools Directory of Distinguished Alumni in 2016. For many years, Kukla operated the Friends of Barbara Kukla Scholarship Fund, a group that raised $50,000 to aid Newark Public Schools children. She is a member of Bethany Baptist church. She has one daughter, Dashanta Faucette-Knight, and one granddaughter, LaFire Faucette.

Scope and Content

This collection consists of the collected papers of Barbara J. Kukla, who has worked in Newark for over fifty years as an author and reporter. These materials were collected by Barbara, both through her work and for personal interest. Some of the significant topics represented in these files are: music, theater, poetry, fine arts, books, African-American heritage and history, African-American life, women's issues, women's history, public schools, charter schools, universities, colleges, religion (churches, pastors), politicians, elections, community groups, women's groups, civil rights groups, and history. Most files focus on Newark, with some New Jersey and national information. The bulk of material covers the 1970s to the 2000s.

Series 1-6 contain paper materials, the majority of which are clippings, pamphlets, leaflets, event journals, and fliers. Series 7 contains photographs. Series 8, the oversized series, contains mostly paper copies of newspapers, as well as posters, emphysema, and paper materials.

Series Descriptions

SEE Series 6B for miscellaneous biographical information, Appendix 1 for a list of names and organizations in the collection.

Series I: Arts & Culture [box 1-4, 16, 21]

1A Biographical Files [1, 16 & 21] This subseries consists of files of research on gospel singers which Kukla used to construct a calendar on Newark's gospel history (calendar is filed in Series 1B, Box 2, Folder 16). The files are alphabetical by last name. Material is mostly printed news articles, with some copies of other materials (fliers, photos). Two dates are given for these files, the date of the original news article or material and the date of the copy (generally 2011). A 2018 addition to this series is jazz research files. There are three binders (alphabetical) of research material on jazz musicians as well as several files of additional research material.

1B Subject Files [2-4] This subseries consists of subject files filed alphabetically, usually by subject, genre, or organization name. Subjects include music, theater, fine arts, poetry, photography, film, and cultural events (including library, museum, history, African-American heritage events). Material includes calendars created by Kukla, playbills, pamphlets, fliers, and booklets, documenting arts and culture in New Jersey. Research materials for Kukla's gospel calendar are filed under "Gospel Calendar" (See also: Series 1A and Series 8, Box OV-1, Folder 6). There's are many jazz music related event fliers under Jazz Music. Also of note, an extensive collection of playbills from New Jersey theaters and information on historical celebrations of Black History Month and Martin Luther King Day in the Newark area.

2 Community Groups and Community Leaders [box 5-8]

2A Biographical Files This subseries includes material on specific figures who served as community leaders in Newark. Material includes pamphlets, event journals, obituaries, and clippings. Files are alphabetical by last name. Of note is material on Mary Burch and Connie Woodruff, both of whom featured in Kukla's book Defying the Odds: triumphant black women of Newark.

2B Subject Files This subseries consists of material on community groups, clubs, committees, civil rights groups, women's clubs, non-profits, and ethnic organizations (mostly in Newark and New Jersey) and the events they sponsored. The files are alphabetical by group name, with a miscellaneous file at the end. The bulk of material is event programs, fliers, pamphlets, and event journals, with some historical information. Of note is material on many African-American centric groups who worked in Newark including The Leaguers and National Council of Negro Women Inc.

3 Education [box 17-18, 20]

3A Biographical Files This subseries includes material on specific figures who served as teachers and educational leaders in Newark. The bulk of material is clippings and fliers but event journals and other miscellaneous papers are also included. Of note, is the extensive material on the Marion Bolden from the early 2000s, as well as rare early material from the life of Alma Flagg – Newark's first African-American female principal.

3B Subject Files This subseries consists of material on education, mostly in Newark and New Jersey, include administration, colleges, schools, teachers, and school sports. The material is filed alphabetically by school name, organization name, subject, or sorority name. Material includes clippings, pamphlets, fliers, papers, and event journals.

4 Politics & Government [box 9-11]

4A Biographical This subseries includes material on specific figures who served as politicians in Newark, New Jersey, and nationally. The bulk of material is clippings and fliers but event journals and other miscellaneous papers are also included. Of note, is extensive material on the career of Sharpe James, as well as material on many other important Newark figures such as Kenneth Gibson and Amiri Baraka.

4B Subject Files This subseries consists of material on politicians and elections, mostly Newark and New Jersey, but also nationally. The material is filed alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically. The bulk of material is clippings and fliers but booklets and other miscellaneous papers are also included. This subseries overlaps heavily with 4A. Of note, is extensive material collected by Kukla on the historic 1970 mayoral election in Newark, which Kenneth Gibson won as the first African-American mayor in Newark.

5 Religion [box 12]

Most files are church publications or event journals. The files "Newark Churches" and "Bethany Baptist Church Materials" contain papers, pamphlets, programs, fliers, event journals, and correspondence. "Newark Churches" also contains some historical and biographical information on churches and pastors. Of note, is Kukla's calendar "In the Spirit: Remembering Newark's Religious Leaders".

6 Miscellaneous [box 13-15, 23]

6A African-American History [box 13] This subseries is a small group of material not explicitly related to New Jersey, on African-American history. Mostly consists of small publications and is filed alphabetically.

6B Biographical [box 13] This subseries consists of biographical information, mostly on Newark and New Jersey residents, including many members of the African-American community. Material types include obituaries, publications, pamphlets, papers and clippings. Obituaries and funeral programs were moved from this subseries only if a name file existed on the person elsewhere in the collection (i.e. for William Ashby see Series 2, for Alma Flagg see series 3). Material is filed alphabetically by type of material or subject. Of note, is the extensive collection of funeral programs and obituaries for African-American residents of Newark (see Appendix 1A for partial name list).

6C Conferences Material [box 13-14] This small subseries contains material from conferences Kukla attended that do not fit any of the broad subject categories of series 1-5. Subjects include African-American issues, history and women's issues. Most materials are publications and pamphlets. Material is filed alphabetically by title or topic.

6D –Newark and NJ [box 14, PG 1] The bulk of this subseries is material on Newark and New Jersey including historical information. Types of material include pamphlets, small publications, clippings, correspondence, and ephemera. Material is filed alphabetically by format or subject, with a miscellaneous folder at the end. Of note is a 1936 publication on women in Newark (box 15, folder 27, copies catalogued). Paige Box #1 contains clippings of Kukla's series "Newark This Week".

7 Visual Materials [box 15]

This is a series of photographs Kukla collected from various sources, including her work at the Star Ledger. Folders are filed alphabetically by subject or last name. The largest files are "Arts & Culture - Promotional Photos" which includes musicians, actors, and other performers and "Politicians" which includes Newark and New Jersey politicians. Of note, "Community Groups and Leaders", "Education" and "People – Misc" all include photos of lesser known African-American residents of Newark. The folder titled "Martin Luther King and related" contains photos of the Newark Walk for Understanding, which took place just after King's death in 1968. Almost all the photographs cover Newark, New Jersey, or people originally from the area.

8 Oversized Materials & Ephemera [22, OV_1 to OV_3, Offsite]

This series contains oversized materials from Kukla's collection. The majority are old newspapers, including a paper copy of the 1970 issue of the Newark News announcing Gibson's win and some never-microfilmed copies of the New Jersey Herald News (scanning in progress). Other materials include papers, clippings, and posters.

9 Cassette Tapes

This series contains cassette tapes of Kukla's interviews with Newark music figures.
